CEREMONIES

Once you have chosen The Millhouse for your wedding ceremony and secured the date with ourselves, you must either contact your local registrar office or Celebrant to ensure they are available for the date and time of your wedding

CELEBRANT SERVICES

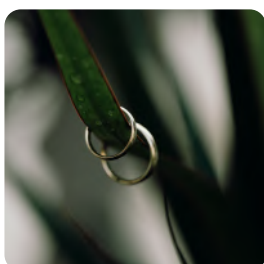

IT'S . ALL . ABOUT . YOU .

A celebrant led wedding is very flexible in terms of what it involves (we've seen tree planting, ceremonial G&Ts and four-legged groomsmen!) but doesn't constitute the legal side of marriage, which you'd need to do separately at the registry office.

A big benefit of a celebrant is they create bespoke and very personal services, involving things meaningful to you as a couple. A celebrant will get to know you and your story and be able to communicate and celebrate this with your guests - there's usually a lot of laughter as well as some tears in a celebrants service!

The drawback to this is a celebrant can't legally marry you so many couples choose to go to the registry office to complete the legal side the day before.

If choosing a celebrant then take your time researching different celebrants - they all have different styles and personalities and you'll want to choose one who fits you well as a couple.

CIVIL CEREMONY REGISTRAR SERVICES LEGALLY . MARRIED .

At a civil ceremony a registrar from our local council (East Riding of Yorkshire) will legally marry you. The Millhouse is a licenced venue so they can legally perform the marriage service on site.

You'll need to "give notice" between 30 days and a year before the wedding, which involves going to the council offices and signing a piece of paper saying you intend to marry. The service must be non religious and you'll need to choose two witnesses to sign the register.

The main benefit to a civil ceremony is you are legally getting married and saying your vows in front of all your friends and family. For many couples it's really important to them that people witness this commitment and they want their loved ones there with them as they do this. There are options to personalise your ceremony by choosing non-religious readings or music to make it more bespoke to you.

One drawback to a civil ceremony is you may not meet the registrar marrying you until the day of your wedding and they will not be there to have a rehearsal with you the day before. The ceremony tends to follow a similar format each time, and though you can choose readings and music it is not as bespoke as some other options.

OUR CHARGES FOR HOLDING A CEREMONY AT THE MILLHOUSE ARE £300

Please note that our charges are separate from those charged by your celebrant or registrar's office
